

A 10x10 grid with thick black borders forming various shapes. The borders are composed of horizontal and vertical segments of varying lengths, creating a complex pattern of enclosed and open areas. The shapes include rectangles, L-shapes, and more complex polygons. The grid is divided into smaller squares by thin gray lines, while the thick black borders define the primary shapes.